

Jedi Housemate Guide ⚡

Welcome to the house!

Every shared home needs balance in the Force. Being a good tenant here means being a Jedi housemate: thoughtful, tidy, and willing to do your part so the whole house runs smoothly. This guide sets out the simple habits that make shared living fair and enjoyable for everyone.

🌟 Everyday Jedi Skills

- Leave no trace. Wipe down surfaces after use, sweep up crumbs or dirt, rinse the sink or shower, and clear hair from drains.
- Take initiative. If you notice something small that needs attention (a full bin, a lightbulb gone, a weed outside), please take care of it.

Cleaner vs. Housemates

- The cleaner is here for deep resets (bathroom scrubbing, kitchen detail, etc.).
- Daily basics = you. Sweeping floors, wiping spills, emptying bins, and tidying up between cleans keeps the property pleasant.

🔧 Appliances, Kitchen & Storage

- The house already has most essential appliances, cookware, and plenty of Tupperware.
- To keep communal spaces uncluttered, please avoid bringing duplicates unless you are happy to share them.
- If you prefer to keep certain items for your own use, that's fine – just be mindful of space.

🗑️ Shared Items, Bins & Fairness

- No rigid rotas – instead we follow a fair contribution system.
- If you buy a communal item (loo roll, bin bags, detergent, washing-up liquid) or do a shared task (like emptying bins or sweeping the kitchen), please post in the house WhatsApp: "Emptied the bins today ✅."
- That logs your effort and ensures responsibility is shared evenly.

💡 Bulbs, Batteries & Basics

- Lightbulbs and batteries are perishable items. They will need replacing during your tenancy and are the responsibility of tenants.
- If spares aren't available, please pick them up, replace, and log it.

🌱 Outdoor Areas

- A quick tidy makes all the difference: pull weeds, sweep paths, or pick up stray recycling.
- No gardening skills required – just a little shared effort to keep the property presentable.

📱 House Communication

- Use the WhatsApp group to log tasks and purchases.
- Keep communication positive. If an issue arises, please resolve it privately (message, quick call, or face-to-face) rather than debating it in the group chat.
- This helps keep the group friendly and the house respectful.

🔧 Troubleshooting Before Reporting

1. Identify: Note make/model, take a photo.
2. Check basics: Plug in? Switch on? Fuse intact? Try a reset?
3. Research: Use Google, YouTube, or AI (e.g. "[model] error code E21 fix").
4. Record: Short video (20-30 secs) + error codes if shown.
5. Report: Send details and what you tried in WhatsApp.

🚨 Emergencies vs. Routine Issues

- Urgent: leaks, complete power loss, no heating/hot water in winter, insecure entry.
- Routine: dripping taps, minor repairs → log it, we will arrange it to be fixed.
- Not for us: bins, bulbs, batteries, and everyday cleaning supplies.

Jedi Standard:

Shared houses only work when everyone pulls their weight. Log your efforts, respect others, and the Force will keep the house in balance.
